QUINNESEC ITEMS.

Robert Brown and Miss Jennie McLelland were married the evening of the 21st inst. [of this month]. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wm. Roberts, at the residence of Jno. [sic – John] McLelland, the bride’s father. This was the realization of a long anticipated event. Both of the parties have resided in Quinnesec for many years and Mr. Brown has been a persistent [sic – persistent], and, as the result indicates, a successful, applicant, for the hand and heart of one of our most worthy and attractive young ladies. There are many affecting incidents, notably deaths, in both families, which, possibly, explains the long delay of the marriage. Both of the parties to it have been cheerful and unfaltering [sic – unfaltering] devotees in the care for, and the comfort of, aged parents. And what more commendable merit can attach to man or woman [sic – woman] than the knowledge that pleasure, personal interest, and comfort, have in a great degree been sacrificed to filial duty. Such devotion is appreciated in every community and carries with it a merit mark of true manly and womanly worth. What a peace giving reflection it will prove to this husband and wife to feel in the years to come that the first thought in their younger days was always of father – mother. May their union be long and peaceful. The wedding was a quiet little affair, only a few intimate friends and family relatives present. The bride was tastefully attired, and the refreshments during the evening in good form. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will continue to make Quinnesec their home, where they have many life-long friends.
