

Sign up at the Peter White Public Library Reference desk
for a free six-week course:

Writing Your Own Story

(an opportunity to finally write down some of those stories you've been meaning to save)

This course will offer

- ❖ brainstorming opportunities,
- ❖ tips on how to expand on an idea,
- ❖ help shaping an essay
- ❖ a brief overview on how to submit work for publication.

Class held weekly in the Dandelion Cottage Room
2:00-3:00 pm on Mondays, January 9- February 13, 2012.

Course instructor, Ellen Moore, is a librarian at Peter White Public Library with a masters degree in creative writing. Call 226-4312 for more information.