Michigan Immigrants— Romanies, Hmong and Many More

A Talk by Martha Bloomfield

Join Martha Bloomfield as she shares the stories and history of Michigan's lesser known immigrants.

She has collected these stories through oral history interviews, revealing the life experiences of marginalized peoples—who have sometimes been hidden, silenced, censored and/or disrespected in communities throughout the world.

Joining Martha will be guest speaker Russ Magnaghi. As the Acquisitions Editor of MSU Press Discovering the Peoples of Michigan series, he will discuss the development of this most successful series and its impact on Michigan Heritage.

Book sales and signing after the presentation.
