Personal Legacy Workshops

with Heather Mlsna

Stop saying, "I really should start writing this down," and come to these workshops to learn a quick and easy method of getting your stories and memories on paper. Come to as many workshops as you like until your project is complete.

"Our words and actions over time are what make up our personal legacy. Our legacy is not the material goods we bequeath to others when we die. It is a living, breathing thing taking place every minute of our lives." Heather Mlsna
